Dear Valued Intel Customers and Partners,

In order to optimize our portfolio and maintain customer support, Intel is making changes to the roadmap associated with our Tofino® portfolio. As a result, Intel will stop development of the next generation Tofino® programs currently on the roadmap. This change will be effective immediately so we can increase our focus and resources on the existing Tofino® products.

Intel plans to continue to sell, support, and enhance its currently shipping products: Tofino®, Tofino® Expandable Architecture, and Tofino® 2. Intel also plans to continue to support its P4 compiler and software development environment (SDE).

Please reach out to your Intel account team if you have any questions.

Sincerely,

Edward Doe
